CHAPTER ONE-General Washington loved a widow. She was the first lady of the land. In everything General Washington was first—'first in war, first in peace, first in the hearts of his countrymen." President Washington never had a boy to chop his cherry tree; yet he was called "The Pather of His Country." Though he had a hatchet, he was not a knocker.

Like a great majority of Tulsa people, he was successful, because he had so little competition in attending to his own business.
